

Tennessee Wings of Liberty Museum Update 3/27/26

Only 49 days until we open the doors!

Progress continues at fast pace inside the museum, The appearance dramatically changed as large murals were placed above the alcove cases. These murals capture the history of units here at Fort Campbell. They extend the full length of the exhibit hall and will include video portions. We are excited for you to see them in person when we open the doors to the public the afternoon of 15 May.

Construction begins on additional parking lot

Thanks to some project savings and your continued support, we are adding additional parking to better support visitors and events at museum. With this new addition, we will have a total of 150 parking spots at the museum. Construction will be completed prior to the opening.

One of the last heavy artifacts just got installed in the museum. What does this vault door have to do with Fort Campbell? Find out when you visit the museum.

*We are almost there! Please consider helping get us over the finish line.
Thank You.*
